Fund Fees
Interval & Tender Offer Funds	The transaction fee for purchasing a fund is currently waived during a promotional period.
Mutual Funds	There are three basic types of mutual fund fees that may be included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Front-End Load Fees - charged upon purchasing a fund, and will be deducted from your initial investment. • Back-End Load Fees - charged when you sell/redeem your fund shares. Contingent Deferred Sales Charges (CDSC) - assessed if you sell/redeem your fund shares within a specific period.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Annual expenses (expense ratio) – fees that cover a fund’s management costs – including compensation for fund managers, administration, distribution, and marketing. These fees are automatically deducted from the fund’s assets on a regular basis. Fees for a fund can be found on its tearsheet. Check out each fund’s prospectus for details.
Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs)	If you invest in ETFs through SoFi Invest (either by buying them yourself or by investing in them through SoFi Invest’s automated investments), these funds will have their own management fees. These fees are not paid directly by you, but rather by the fund itself. While most of these fees are very low, they do reduce the fund’s returns and you should be aware of them. Check out each fund’s prospectus for details. SoFi Invest does not receive sales commissions, 12b-1 fees, or other fees from ETFs for investing such funds on behalf of advisory clients, though if SoFi Invest creates its own funds, it could earn management fees there. We have SoFi ETFs you can learn more about at sofi.com/invest/etfs.
An investor should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses of the Fund carefully before investing. This and other important information are contained in the Fund’s prospectus. For a current prospectus, please click the Prospectus link on the Fund’s respective page. The prospectus should be read carefully prior to investing.

INVESTMENTS ARE: NOT FDIC INSURED • ARE NOT BANK GUARANTEED • MAY LOSE VALUE
